OVERVIEW

The LIT Conference is a new ministry event designed to ignite leaders of churches from planters to 1,000 plus in attendance. We want to help maximize their gifts with practical lessons on leadership, ministry, and church development so they can make a greater impact for the Kingdom of God. You can check out highlights of LIT2010 by following this link: <http://litconferences.com>.

DATES FOR LIT2011

The 4 LIT Conferences will be held on February 10 in New Orleans; March 24 in Nashville; May 12 in Knoxville; and November 3 in Virginia Beach. We are planning to have 250 to 500 church leaders in attendance for each event.

SPEAKERS

Speakers for each conference are listed on the litconferences.com website. All the speakers have grown churches from founding to thousands in attendance today. All speakers have not been determined.

HOST

In 1996, Pastor Chris Stephens became the first Senior Pastor of Faith Promise Church, which has grown from 250 people to over 4,000 in attendance. Chris is a pastor's pastor who has a heart for encouraging, equipping, and raising up other leaders to achieve their full potential.

Here are stories from two of our LIT2010 sponsors:

Alan Dobbins, Director of Project Development for MG&A:

“In all the years that our firm has been partnering with churches to help guide them in the design and construction process, Chris Stephens and his pastoral staff would rank near the top in terms of strong leadership. We were honored to partner again with Chris and his team as a sponsor in their first LIT Conference in 2010. This conference provides a great platform to share their journey and lessons learned in leadership over the years. As a sponsor, we were offered a great opportunity to interact with pastors and church staffs from all over the southeast.”

Curtis Simmons, VP of Marketing and Community for Fellowship Technologies:

“We were very pleased that we were a sponsor at the 2010 LIT Conference. The conference staff was extremely courteous and helpful; they made sure we had everything we needed to maximize our time there. The staff and Dr. Chris Stephens also did a great job of promoting us to the conference attendees.”
